► Results of the Audit
► Significant Audit Matter
► Internal Controls
► Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements
► Required Communications
► Other Matters
► Reporting Changes

This information is intended solely for the use of Members, Board of Directors, and management of FCS Building Association, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
Results of the Audit

We have audited the financial statements of FCS Building Association (the “Company”) for the year ended December 31, 2021, and have issued our report thereon dated May 6, 2022.

We have issued an unmodified opinion on the financial statements.
Management override of controls

- Exercised professional judgment.
- Obtained adequate supporting documentation.
- Performed testing over journal entries identified as non-standard. Evaluated business rationale for unusual transactions.
- Conducted walkthroughs over key controls identified through process narratives prepared by management.
- Conducted fraud inquiry discussions.
- Reviewed management estimates for bias.
Internal Control Communication

In planning and performing our audit, we considered internal control over financial reporting (“internal control”) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company’s internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company’s internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. In addition, because of inherent limitations in internal control, including the possibility of management override of controls, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected by such controls.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.
A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company’s financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

We noted no deficiencies that we believe to be material weaknesses.
Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are clearly trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management.

Corrected Misstatements

- None noted.

Uncorrected Misstatements

- None noted.
Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the Company are described in Note 2 to the financial statements.

No new accounting policies were adopted and the application of existing policies was not changed during the year. We noted no inappropriate accounting policies or practices.
Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

As part of our audit, we evaluated the Company’s identification of, accounting for, and disclosure of the Company’s relationships and transactions with related parties as required by professional standards.

We noted none of the following:
• Related parties or related party relationships or transactions that were previously undisclosed to us;
• Significant related party transactions that have not been approved in accordance with the Company’s policies or procedures or for which exceptions to the Company’s policies or procedures were granted;
• Significant related party transactions that appeared to lack a business purpose;
• Noncompliance with applicable laws or regulations prohibiting or restricting specific types of related party transactions;
• Difficulties in identifying the party that ultimately controls the entity.
We noted no transactions entered into by the Company during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define significant unusual transactions as transactions that are outside the normal course of business for the Company or that otherwise appear to be unusual due to their timing, size or nature. We noted no significant unusual transactions during our audit.
Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management’s knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimates affecting the financial statements were:

Management’s estimate of useful lives and depreciation methods for property and equipment which are based on past experience, industry standards, current asset condition and other risks inherent to property and equipment. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the estimates above in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.
Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

The financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent, and clear.
Independence Considerations

Nonattest Services

- Our audit team provided a nonattest service by assisting the Company with drafting the financial statements.

- For all nonattest services we perform, you are responsible for designating a competent employee to oversee the services, make any management decisions, perform any management functions related to the services, evaluate the adequacy of the services, and accept overall responsibility for the results of the services.

Independence Conclusion

- We are not aware of any other circumstances or relationships that create threats to auditor independence.

- We are independent of the Company and have met our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits.

Other Required Communications

Management Consultations

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations.

To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year.

These discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

Fraud and Illegal Acts

As of the date of this presentation no fraud, illegal acts, or violations of laws and regulations noted.

Going Concern

No events or conditions noted that indicate substantial doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern.
Upcoming Financial Reporting Changes

These standards will be effective for the Company in the upcoming years and may have a significant impact on the Company's financial reporting.

We would be happy to discuss with management the potential impacts on the Company's financial statements and how we may be able to assist in the implementation efforts.

Statement by Chairman Glen R. Smith
Young, Beginning, and Small Farmers and Ranchers Proposed Rule
Farm Credit Administration Board Meeting
May 12, 2022

The passage of today's proposed YBS rule is an exciting day for the Farm Administration, the Farm Credit System, and America's future generations of young, beginning, and small farmers and ranchers.

I would like to first thank my fellow board member, Jeff Hall, for his support and early recognition of the important role of data in agency business including YBS, well before I came to FCA. This led to the creation of the new Office of Data Analytics and Economics which has been instrumental in modernizing the collection of YBS data in recent years.

YBS has long been cited as an important reason the Farm Credit System is worthy of its government sponsored enterprise or (GSE) status and the important benefits assigned to it. The system has been telling this story and it's a great story to tell. But today's political and business climate DEMAND more than just a good story; it DEMANDS facts backed up by data, more importantly progress backed up by data.

In time, I firmly believe this linkage of data with best practices and growth will become a valuable tool - actually more of a tool, rather than a rule in helping system institutions to advance their YBS programs.

This is a proud day for our YBS workgroups here at FCA and represents an impressive collaborative effort between ORP, OE, OGC and ODAE. The board thanks you and tomorrow’s farmers and ranchers thank you for your hard work and dedication.
